SIMPLE DRESS OF TAFFETA

Nattier Blue-Woolen Material Would Make Up Well in This Charming Design.

Nattier blue woolen taffetas makes up well in this simple style. The front of skirt turns up at foot of left side with a reverse of black satin, and is further trimmed with a satin-covered button and loop. The bodice has a plastron front that lies in curved points over a yoke of black satin; a button with loop being sewn in each point. The sleeves come just below the elbow and are finished with satin cuffs.

the small yoke with collar, also the under sleeves are of Brussels net. Cream straw hat, trimmed with blue feathers.

Materials required for dress: Four and one-half yards 44 inches wide, three-quarters of a yard satin 22 inches wide, six buttons, three-quarters of a yard net 18 inches wide, one dozen small buttons.

Fashion's Fancies

Linens and cotton voiles stand foremost in the list of fabrics for smart blouses.

Leather handbags promise to have things all their own way rather than fancy bags.

The dominant style tendency is better described by directoire than anything else.

Black and white chantilly is a favorite trimming for the frock of soft satin, chiffon and pompadour taffetas.

Skirts with becoming yokes, shaped over the hips and forming a panel at the back, are among the newest models.

Tones and shades will be mingled more freely than will different colors. Especially does this apply to evening costumes, which will very often be built of rich medium and even dark shades, lightened with chiffon and lace.

CORDS ARE TO BE POPULAR

All Widths and Colors Will Be Used As Trimmings This Fall and Winter.

Cords of all widths and colors will be extensively used on autumn and winter models. Not only as fastenings and "buttons," but as trimmings, and also to weight the borders of the coats and skirts. Narrow cords with pipe edging and light and heavy cords will be used for ornamental designs in the braid style. At one time color was the difficulty, but now the colors and shades are quite as numerous as those in silk, and cords have worked their way into a position of great importance. Waistcoats are again to be worn, but introduced into frocks as well as coats, and these have cordings and buttons which come into full play. Blue serge and blue cloth will be principally treated in this way, and many and beautiful will be the colors and designs seen on the winter models. As I have mentioned before in these columns, velvet as well as cord and braiding will be greatly used, giving a very rich appearance to the plainest materials.—Women's Wear.

Fads.

The new waists are being finished, many of them, with high crushed satin girdles to wear outside the skirt. Leather collars and cuffs are coming in, of white or colors, finished with wee straps and pearl buckles.

Some of the heavy lace tunics to the new white satin gowns are edged with ermine and veiled with chiffon.

Unlined wraps of firm ivory voiles are much liked for warm summer afternoons and summer seashore wear.

Some of the new dark tailored suits for autumn are livened up by collars and cuffs in burnt orange, tan, green, rose, blue and other tones.

A LUCKY DEAL

WHILE in Cincinnati last week our Mr. McGowan ran into one of the big clothing manufacturers who had about 300 winter weight suits and overcoats left on his hands—brand new, this fall's productions, nobby patterns. These parties needed some ready money and needed it bad, so it did not take him very long to close the deal at about 60 cents on the dollar. Our customers will get the benefits. Don't wait until they are all picked over, but come right along. See prices below:

Unfortunate English.

The general impression that the Englishman's life is rather prosy is supported by the statement of a Londoner who visited at Clay Center. He said he never had tasted fried chicken or strawberry shortcake, the two being unknown to the culinary art in his country.—Kansas City Star.

On Pennsylvania Farm.

Here is one of the stories, says the American Greeting, from the old man's row in front of the barber shop: One man said back in Pennsylvania they farmed the land where the hills were so steep that when they planted potatoes one man had to hold them in a furrow while another man covered them up. When they dug them in the fall they were simply allowed to roll to the bottom of the hill before any attempt was made to pick them up.
